

Beyond120 and the Archie Carr Center for Sea Turtle Research

CLEARWATER MARINE AQUARIUM

IMPACT REPORT

Beyond120 and the Archie Carr Center for Sea Turtle Research partnered on an excursion to the Clearwater Marine Aquarium for a full day of career exploration.

- This visit included a site tour, employee panel, and internship presentation
- 40 undergraduate students from CLAS and ZOO4405
- 12 different majors represented, from biology to economics
- 83% of students said they better understand their potential career pathways

“The most important lesson that I learned from employers was about how I can break into different fields that are not necessarily directly related to my degree. Specifically, it's more important what you do with your degree, rather than what you study.”

*Rhiannon O'Donnell,
Data Science '25*

“The panel talk has opened my perspective on how different everyone's career path is. The big take-home message for me was that we were going to get out what we put into our education and careers whether that be with CMA, or another facility. Overall Beyond120 deepened my knowledge of this field and shined light on new opportunities.”
